WHO WE ARE

Natural Selection is a conservation and nature-based tourism company with a collection of family-owned and community joint venture camps and mobile safaris in remote, wild places in Botswana, Namibia and South Africa.

OUR CONSERVATION COMMITMENT

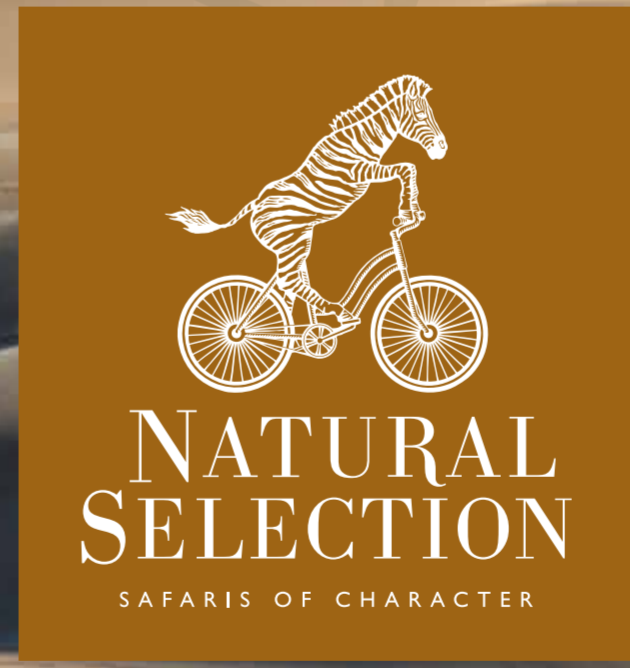

From the beginning, Natural Selection has been about creating an excellent safari experience that gives back. We are fully committed to making a significant positive impact on the conservation of wildlife and on the lives of people living sustainably in and near wildlife areas of Africa. To do so, we pledge 1.5% of YOUR stay in our camps to conservation.

The Natural Selection Conservation Trust is an independent non-profit organisation registered in Botswana, which manages all donations from Natural Selection and from donors who want to help us make a difference. The Trust is led by five trustees with extensive backgrounds in African-based conservation, environmental and anthropological sciences, who donate their time to reviewing all funded projects and the administering of the Trust.

In Namibia, our mobile safari partners are Namibia Tracks and Trails. Founded in 1986 by Karl Heinz Gruttemeyer, NTT has spent the last 30 years organising mobile and fly-in safaris to some of the most remote corners of Namibia. A true family business, there are no less than three generations involved today (plus a few others!) and every single person is committed to the preservation of this vast, beguiling land, just as we are.

“OUR CAMPS ARE UNIQUE & QUIRKY. WE OFFER ONE-OF-A-KIND EXPERIENCES THAT ARE FULL OF SOUL & CHARACTER...”
